fountain hills sneak peek

Come inside the personal home of a custom homebuilder for a peek at a kitchen with all the amenities – and a just-right way to pull them together.

The trick is to combine furniture-quality hardwoods like maple and pecan with a convenient layout

Crown molding and furniture-like finishes create a handsome framework for a traditional home in prestigious Fountain Hills, Arizona. Add an expansive cooking hearth, a contrasting island and soft, professional lighting for a look that pleases the eye wherever it turns. The trick is to combine furniture-quality hardwoods like maple and pecan with a convenient layout, the latest in appliances and a spectacular accent like this chandelier-pot rack. Then apply this blend of style and function throughout the home with consistency and a dash of the unexpected. Across from the kitchen, for instance, guests and family savor an impressive wall of cabinetry creating an entertainment center with moldings that stretch all the way to the 10' soffit.
